1. The Original

The Schwarzenberg Kaserne is the geographically largest barracks in the Austrian army directly on the western outskirts of the city of Salzburg in Austria in the municipality of Wals-Siezenheim. The barracks is so extensive that it is a separate town in the municipality.

At the Schwarzenberg barracks there is a helipad with the ICAO LOXS. Because it is military zone there are no additional information or original pictures up to a picture of some parked "Blackhawk".

2. The scenery

The scene is based on publicly available information.

It consists only of the helipad, a windsock and a few trees and the exclusions on the court to remove the autogen objects.

  Custom Scenery /
    LOXS Schwarzenbergkaserne 2.0/
